Subject: Re: Sean Weber

Jon's chronology of events is completely in line with my recollection of events. Sean never delivered a final proposal and I have not had any further contact. It was a cold call sales pitch and the City was not discussed.

Joe,

I noticed that you entered Kathy's email address wrong in your original email, so I have forwarded it as part of this reply and CCed her.

This is the sequence of events regarding Sean Weber to the best of my recollection.

On December 16, 2015, Sean met with Josh McDonald, Assistant Principal, at Valencia High School.

The topic of the meeting was what Sean's company, the Sedan Group, could do to help the District update and modernize our communication platforms to be better prepared for emergencies. Josh then brought in Kathy Hunter as Sean was wanting to offer a district wide solution and was really outside of his purview.

On January 25, 2016, Sean met with Josh McDonald, Kathy Hunter, and Sonia Pischevar at the District Office. Realizing that the solutions Sean was offering was something that would need to involve Technology and Maintenance, Kathy worked to gather information Sean requested to prepare a proposal and setup a subsequent meeting. There were a few delays in scheduling the next meeting based on time needed for information collection and conflicting schedules.

On June 21, 2016, Sean met with Josh McDonald, Kathy Hunter, I believe Jack Kapp from Maintenance, and myself at the District Office. Sean discussed ideas he had for updates to existing paging and telecommunications systems including a VoIP solution district wide. We discussed our current environment and answered his questions. My recollection from the end of the meeting was that Sean was going to finalize his proposal and schedule a follow up meeting to present it to the District. I have not heard from Sean since. Based on your email I thought maybe I missed an email from him that went to Spam. I just searched our entire email system and could not find any email from Sean's email address to anyone in the District since June of 2016 (before our last meeting).

I considered this a cold call sales pitch (something we did not initiate) and did not think to follow up with Sean.

I do not remember any discussion regarding the District needing guidance from the City for active shooter situations, so I am not sure what he is referring to in his interview on KHTS.

About 2:45 in the interview video here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bYDUV8AGp0I>

I hope that helps and I am happy to discuss this with you further on Monday if you like. Let me know if you have any other questions.
